WELCOME MESSAGE

On behalf of National University Hospital, Singapore, we take great pleasure in inviting you to the ASEAN Basic Hands-on Endoscopic Ultrasound (EUS) Course to be held in Singapore on 11-12 January 2008.

EUS is still a relatively new technology in Asia outside of Japan. However, it is fast becoming an important diagnostic and therapeutic tool in GI endoscopy. This structured course will include a variety of learning modes on EUS: state-of-the-art lectures, interpretation of images through video case studies, and hands-on training with live animal and wet mount models. We believe that in the absence of opportunity for hands-on training in EUS on actual patients, these models are useful teaching surrogates. At the end of the course, you will be rewarded with a valuable experience – not only in the skills of performing EUS but also in the interpretation of the images.

We warmly invite you to this course and look forward to meeting you.

Assoc Professor Lawrence Ho
Course Director

Course Directors

Assoc Professor Lawrence Ho
Chief, Department of Medicine, and Clinical Director, Endoscopy Center, National University Hospital, Singapore
Assoc Professor Ho undertook his training in therapeutic endoscopy and endoscopic ultrasound at the Brigham and Women’s Hospital, USA, and Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, USA. He has participated actively in endoscopic teaching for many years, being an invited faculty at many regional endoscopic workshops and meetings.

Assoc Prof Yeoh Khay Guan
Senior Consultant, Department of Gastroenterology and Hepatology, National University Hospital, Singapore
Assoc Professor Yeoh was trained in therapeutic endoscopy at the Digestive Disease Centre, Medical University of South Carolina, USA. He has an active interest in postgraduate education and EUS teaching especially in the use of simulation in training. He has performed confocal endomicroscopy since 2004 and presented an oral paper at DDW 2005, Chicago USA. He also serves as Head, Institute of Medical Education and Training, NHG College.

Dr Christopher Khor
Senior Consultant, Department of Gastroenterology and Hepatology, and Deputy Clinical Director of Endoscopy Center, National University Hospital, Singapore.
Dr Khor was trained in endoscopic ultrasound and therapeutic endoscopy at the Medical University of South Carolina, USA and the Indiana University Medical Center, USA. He has a keen interest in endoscopy training, and has also served as invited faculty at regional endoscopy workshops and meetings. He is a co-investigator in ongoing studies of Confocal Endomicroscopy at NUH; some of this work was the subject of an oral presentation at DDW 2005.

Dr Charles Vu
Senior Consultant, Department of Gastroenterology and Hepatology, Tan Tock Seng Hospital, Singapore
Dr Vu was trained in therapeutic endoscopy at Monash Medical Centre, Melbourne, Australia, and EUS at Guy’s and St Thomas’ Hospitals, London, United Kingdom. He has a keen interest in EUS training and has co-authored a training DVD in EUS.
